To whom it may concern,

I have had the pleasure of working with ten different models from Vantage Advertising LLC at four different trade shows over the past year—all of whom were helpful, outgoing, and capable.

As a manufacturer of niche medical devices, we have a lot of very specific information that the models always learn quickly and relay effortlessly to our potential customers.

Above all, ClearCorrect values competence and friendliness in all of their employees which is why the Vantage models are always a seamless fit to the trade show team.

Regards,

Elizabeth Coffman

Public Relations Director
